++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Increasing cloud, with some outbreaks of rain moving east.

Today:
A chilly but bright start with a few glimmers of sunshine. However, thicker cloud and patchy rain will move into the far west of the region and move slowly eastwards through the day. Turning mild in the west. Breezy. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying cloudy through the evening and overnight, with outbreaks of rain moving eastwards. Turning drier towards the end of the night. Staying frost free. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Thursday:
A cloudy start to the morning, with outbreaks of rain across west Cornwall. The best of any morning sunshine across the east. Rain then moving eastwards through the day. Mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Often cloudy on Christmas Eve, with the risk of some rain. Likely turning wetter and windier on Christmas Day. Staying cloudy on Boxing day with further rain.
